

Universal Expands Presence with Hoboken, NJ Office

June 17th, 2010

New York, NY – Universal e-Business Solutions (<http://uebiz.com>), a leading provider of communication infrastructure solutions to financial services firms in the Tri-State area, is pleased to announce its newest office in Hoboken, New Jersey. Located at 70 Adams Street, Universal chose to purchase the five-story building and utilize it as its designated company headquarters.

“Our physical expansion into New Jersey is in lock-step with our continued and expanding commitment to serve our growing client base and partners in the area,” says Universal Executive Vice President of Sales, Chris Lischy.

Universal e-Business Solutions has recently expanded connectivity solutions with Financial Extranets and Co-Location service offerings for its clients with even more choice in competitive connectivity and proximity services.

“We are continually innovating and expanding our solutions to provide the best execution model for our clients and employees. Our ability to serve clients and our growing team in New Jersey will be greatly enhanced with this office expansion,” says Anu Bhartiya Managing Director, Universal e-Business Solutions.
